

HOW TO DRAW A BODY (1)

Start by drawing some lines as guides: a vertical line and 7 horizontal lines at equal distance from each other. Then 2 more vertical lines to close the shape. This will contain the body. Begin your drawing with simple shapes. It helps if you draw this in blue (another colour is ok) or if you don't have coloured pencils, then sketch VERY lightly.

Now that you've drawn a basic body outline (you can think of it as a sort of skeleton), you're ready to work in the details. Do this using a normal pencil or a different colour from the one you used before. Take your time and be careful to watch where every shape is supposed to go.

